EDITOR SOUTH KENTUCKIAN:

After a considerable absence, caused by sickness, your correspondent is again at his post of duty, and very gladly contributes a few items to the columns of the excellent South Kentuckian.Our town has been greatly distressed over the death of one of its most substantial citizens, Mr. T. J. Boyd, which sad event occurred on the 31st March, at the residence of Mr. Jessie Stamper, of this place. Mr. Boyd has for a number of years been a prominent grocer here and was widely known as a thoroughly reliable business man. He was just in the prime of manhood, being 47 years of age, and though of a strong constitution, yet he could not withstand the severity of a violent attack of pneumonia, which after a week's duration caused his death. The deceased was a bachelor and leaves a brother, two sisters and a number of other relations and friends to mourn over their irreparable loss.The ruthless sickle of death has a second time recently invaded our midst, this time cutting down Dr. S. C.
Young, who after a long period of illness, died at his home near Bennettstown, a few days ago. Dr. Young was a well known physician and highly esteemed both for his medical attainments and his many noble qualities of head and heart, and his death has caused a universal expression of sorrow. He was an honorable member of the Masonic fraternity, and was buried with the rites of that order.To his bereaved relations Camille extends most profound sympathy.Capt. Wm. Hester, who was stricken with paralysis a few weeks ago, is still in a precarious condition and as he is very old gentleman, grave fears are entertained of his recovery.Little Fraser Williams, a five year old son of Dr. A. W. Williams, of this town, recently met with a very painful and severe accident. While playing with some little boys, he got a grain of corn in his wind pipe, and it seems impossible to remove the grain. Though the little boy is not confined to bed, yet he suffers a good deal and his parents are well nigh crazed with grief. The sympathies of this entire community are with Dr. Williams and his wife in their dire sorrow.Many of our citizens have been greatly frightened in consequence of the smallpox reports that have been circulated throughout the county. The trustees of Lafayette recently established strict quarantine against those places where smallpox was reported to be but the scare seems now to be almost over and quarantine has been raised.The ancient custom of wearing asafetida around the neck, as a preventive against contagious diseases, now prevails among the most credulous classes, and even some of our most debonair young gentlemen now look enraptured with this fragrant though novel kind of necktie.Certain progressive in persons have recently ascertained the fact that Asafetida gum makes an excellent substitute for "fatly tallow" and though Camille has never experimented with this new kind of chewing wax yet he begs leave to state that he has an abundant supply of it in stock and will sell it very cheap.Lafayette now boasts of a new firm established for the purpose of buying loose tobacco, and which is known by the style of Fuqua, Ledford & Co.Several lightning rod men are now "doing" our town and the street discussions on electricity etc., are numerous and learned. Works on chemistry are now in demand and even the small boy can talk wisely about the advantages and disadvantages of lightning rods.Mrs. Nellie Hester, (Olive Branch), recently suspended her school, on account of the small-pox scare at West York, Ky., and is now visiting friends in this place.Miss Sara Holmes a very talented and highly accomplished young lady from Clarksville, Tenn., is now on a visit to her sister, Mrs. S. B. Fuqua, of this place.Mr. Wm. Ragsdale, of Oxford, North Carolina is spending some time with relatives here.R. J. Fuqua Esq., who has for some months been located at Springfield, Tenn., in the interest of the Dayton Ohio Hedge Co., left this morning after having spent a few days with friends in this place. Mr. Fuqua goes from here to Jackson, Tenn., where he will again be engaged in the hedge business.

ALEXANDER STEPHENS.

BY MALLIE V. DUDLEY.

We mourn for a great man gone,
For Georgia's son is dead,
The night his light brought fairest dawn,
New glories o'er him shed.No grief can touch him evermore,
Nor slander dare assault,
No sickness reach that far-off shore,
Where angels furl his sail.The land he loved to the last,
Shall hold his grave right dear,
And cherish well the glories past,
That bring him ever near.O Southern hearts of loving trust;
We know in future days, Stephens' memory was and just,
With you must live always.

"SWEETHEART, GOOD-BYE."

BY W. W. GRAYSON.

Sweetheart, good-bye! the fluttering sail
Is spread to waft me far from thee,
And soon before the favoring breeze
My ship shall bound upon the sea.Perchance, all desolate and forlorn,
These eyes shall miss thee many a year;
But unforgotten ever thine,
Though lost to sight, to me'm'ry dear.Sweetheart, good-bye! one last embrace!
O cruel fate! true souls to sever!
Yet in this heart's most sacred place,
Thou, thus alone, shall dwell forever!And still shall recollection trace,
In fancy's mirror, ever near,
Each smile, each tear, that form that face,
Though lost to sight, to me'm'ry dear.Sweetheart, good-bye! Though severance
The waves may bear me back to thee;
Though thrown upon some distant shore,
By angry wind and surging sea,
My constant heart would still recall
The soft brown eyes and browner hair,
And know thy name, by touch, thy all, Though lost to sight, to me'm'ry dear.The little daughter of the editor of the Tiffin, O. Daily Star was immediately and permanently relieved of a severe cough by three doses of Dr.
Bull's Cough Syrup. A twenty-five cent bottle of this valuable remedy will cure the worst cough.

OBITUARY.

It is indeed one of the most painful duties, that I have undertaken in life, to chronicle the death of one of the brightest and purest gems of this community, Little Dora, daughter of A. R. and Emily C. Perkins, who departed this life the 5th inst. She was a beautiful and tender girl, and a favorite with all who knew her. She suffered long and severely with a chronic disease, which, notwithstanding all the skillful efforts of her physician, overpowered her. But mild and gentle as the sunshiny days of springtime, did she resign her precious life to the angel's call, as we all must do one day sooner or later. Oftimes have I viewed this little girl in the school room where she studied so hard, and had such bright prospects for future usefulness in the community where she might have chance to live. But alas! how soon it's over like the lilies of the field, when the icy winter comes upon them;
she drooped her gentle head and humbly submitted to higher calling. It does indeed seem hard that one so young and sprightly must lay aside the apparent beauties of this life, and bid adieu to father, mother, sisters, and brothers, and to all her old school companions, only asking them to keep fresh in their memories a green spot upon which her lovely features are constantly playing. Most assuredly little Dora is now helping to compose one of the happy angelic bands in that bright Beyond where pleasure is for ever and sorrow is no more.We lay thee in the silent tomb, Sweet blossom of the day,
We just began to view thy bloom,
When you were called away.Friendship and love have done their best,
And now can do no more,
The stung is past,
And all thy sufferings o'er.Yet again we hope to meet thee,
When this day of life is o'er,
Then in heaven, with joy to greet thee
Where no farewell tear is shed.I never look up with a wish to the sky,
But a light like thy beauty is there,
I hear a low murmur like thine in reply,
Dear ones, are long, you'll all be here.

A heavy snow storm last Saturday blocked all the highways and railways in Dakota.

Don't forget the precinct conventions at 2 o'clock Saturday week, to appoint delegates to the county convention.

President Arthur is fishing in Florida. Vice President Edmunds is visiting in Missouri and our great Nation is accephalous.

The Democratic nominee for Governor of Georgia stutters. He "G-g-got t-t-here E-E-I-I" all the same, in the convention.

Bert Wing and Essie Davis, alias Mrs. Miriam Eaves Reno, have been held to answer to the charge of murder for the killing of Joe Glenn in St. Louis.

The Owensboro Post has been changed to a semi-weekly and is published every Monday and Thursday afternoon in five column form, at $1.50 a year.

Cadet Benj. M. Lay, of Mississippi, died of pneumonia at the Kentucky Military Institute a few days since, and the K. M. I. News of last week came out in mourning.

There are 70 miles of paved streets in Boston. Thirty miles of these are swept every day, but last fall the Democrats swept not only the whole city but the whole state of Massachusetts.

Dr. Carver has recently defeated Capt. Bogardus in three shooting matches at Pittsburgh, New York and Philadelphia. In the last Carver broke 99 out of 100 clay pigeons.

Dr. Jno. D. Woods saluted the readers of the Bowling Green Gazette to the extent of a column last week but the Doctor was in one his "ways" and no one but a college graduate could tell what he was driving at.

Mr. C. T. Sutton has transferred the Hartford Herald to Mr. Jno. P. Barrett, its former owner and editor, who will assume editorial control of it at once. He is an old hand at the newspaper business and made the Herald what it is.

All four of the Judges of the Court of Appeals are now upon the bench and are trying to work off all the old cases on the docket before adjournment. Some of them have been seeking health in other states, or getting married and consequently the business of the court has been neglected until recently.

Dr. Jno. D. Woods has assumed editorial control of the Bowling Green Gazette which will be published semi-weekly in the future. Our fraternal benison rests upon him. May the rattle of the shakels in his pocket ever make sweet music for his ears, his fondest hopes be realized and all his paths be paths of peace and prosperity.

The press dispatches announce the startling fact that President Arthur gave Miss Pocahontas Minnehaha Tigertail, daughter of Chief Tom Tigertail, of Florida, a silver quarter last week, but they fail to state what induced the head of the nation to lavish his wealth upon this untutored maiden of the forest.

Maj. Henry D. McDaniel, of Walton county, was nominated by the Democrats of Georgia as a compromise candidate for Governor to fill out Stephens' unexpired term. He has been a State Senator continuously for eight years, until last year when he declined a re-election. He is 46 years old and is a successful lawyer and a man of spotless reputation.

Twelve armed troops captured a freight train on the C. & O. road last week and ordered the conductor to take them to Lexington. The conductor telegraphed ahead to Mt. Sterling, and had the gang arrested upon their arrival there. If there is a law to cover the case they should every one be convicted and sent to the penitentiary and put to work on the roads until they have enough of the railroad business.

Out of forty-two poems on Spring which have appeared in our exchanges within a week, thirty-seven have imparted the information that "Spring is here." Spring generally arrives about this time of year. We don't remember that its coming was ever postponed on account of the weather. When every family can get an almanac for the asking, it is hardly worth while for poets to tell the people that Spring is here, under the belief that the intelligence is new.—Norristown Herald.

Here's Romance For You.

On Thursday April 5th, Mr. Chas. B. Kin man, of Hickman, Ky., and Miss Etta Nisbet, of Madisonville, were married. The attendants were Mr. Zeno F. Young, editor of the Madisonville Times and Miss Jessie Turner, of Hickman. The party passed this city en route to Hickman on the day of the wedding, notice of which was made in the South KENTUCKIAN. So far all was simply according to programme, but the romantic part came in later. Mr. Young was in love with and engaged to Miss Turner, a fact which we did not state in our brief notice. They met some two months ago, since which time Miss Turner had been visiting friends in Madisonville. Both parties engaged in a flirtation but a mutual attachment sprang up between them which culminated in a wedding last Wednesday evening, the 11th inst, which was as romantic as it was unexpected. When the Kingman-Nisbet bridal party reached Hickman it was Mr. Young's intention to remain there a day or two and return home, but he lingered and continued to linger and the more he thought of leaving the more he was disposed to linger. At last a time was set to go but when it arrived they could not be separated and so they went to the Laclede Hotel in Hickman and were very quietly married by Rev. Mr. Pindar of the Episcopal church. The bride is a daughter of Capt. W. I. Turner of the steamer Tyler and is a most charming, captivating and intelligent young lady and Zeno is to be congratulated upon having won her. He is one of the cleverest, jolliest, and most capable and forcible writers on the Kentucky press and is making the Madisonville Times one of the brightest and best country papers in the State.

For the last year or more he has been doing more courting to the square inch than any man in the State and met his fate in one of his numerous flirtations. Here's our hand old boy, may Heaven's choicest blessings rest upon you and as you glide smoothly over the rippling waters of the ever onward stream of Time, may its verdant banks be ever thronged with kind and loving friends who will vie with each other in tending to you the golden apples of unalloyed happiness and perpetual prosperity.

Section 371 of postal laws and regulations of 1879, is amended so as to read as follows: "Postal cards and prepaid letters to be forwarded if requested. Prepaid letters shall be forwarded from one postoffice to another at the request of the party ordered without additional charge for postage. All letters on which one full rate of postage have been prepaid and postal cards shall be forwarded from the office to which they are addressed to any other office at the request of the person addressed, or to the party whose name may be upon the envelope or whose name may be signed to the postal card without additional charge of postage. Such forwarding must be continued till the party addressed is reached. (Signed) - FRANK HATTON, Acting Postmaster General.

Blifkins was telling his girl about how people sometimes fished for compliments when an idea seemed to strike her and she suddenly asked: "What is the difference between you and President Arthur?" Blifkins straightened himself up and replied that he didn't know that there was much difference.

"Yes there is, don't you know what it is?"

"No."

"Give it up?"

"Yes."

You see the President is going around kissing me to fish and I am afraid you are going to fish around to kiss me.

A large hole thirty feet in diameter has opened on the farm of Bayless Wedd, three miles from Somerset, Ky. A tree sixty feet high was carried off sight, and a stone thrown in is several seconds in striking the bottom. It is said to be the deepest hole of the kind ever seen in this country, being practically without a bottom.—Elizabethtown News.

You seem to forget the hole that was made in the Republican party last fall when Robeson and other statesmen (?) dropped out of politics.

There is talk of closing the Owensboro Public Schools on account of the recent decision of the Federal court at Paducah sustaining the right of the colored children to share the common school fund equally with the white children. If this fund is to be divided the schools will have to suspend for lack of means to carry them on, and the Messenger says they cannot begin again until the Legislature meets and grants the schools a new charter.

Here is our prediction as to Christian county. The county will flourish as follows: For Governor, Knott; Lieutenant-Governor, Allen; first Johnson second; Attorney General, Jones; Register of the Land Office, Sheldon; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Edgar; Auditor, Hewitt; Treasurer, Tate. The race will be closer between Hardin and Jones for Attorney General than between any of the other candidates.

Cut This Out.

Miss Mary Hayes, a charming young lady from New York, is visiting her sister, Miss Alice Hayes, at Mr. Isaac Hart's.

Mr. A. W. Pyle and family are spending this week with relatives in the neighborhood of Kirkmansville. As chess carried his fishing poles with him we may expect to hear a number of truthful fish stories up on his return.

Mr. Jno. W. Landrum, the handsome and popular representative of W. S. Dickinson's hat house, Cincinnati, was in the city last week taking orders from our merchants and circulating amongst his friends. He is one of the cleverest "missionaries" on the road.

Mr. J. W. Richards, of Indian Mound, Tenn., who has been in McKee & P'Pool's grocery for some weeks past, has decided to make Hopkinsville his future home, and has accepted a permanent position with Messrs. McKee & P'Pool. We extend to him a cordial welcome to our city.

Miss Mary L. Guthrie, of Bloomfield, Nelson county, Ky., who has been connected with Prof. Wayland's school at Cadiz as a teacher passed through the city Wednesday enroute home. She was accompanied by Mr. Henry H. Bryant, one of the most popular and highly respected young farmers of Trigg county, whose handsome features were wreathed in happy smiles. There is a vague rumor that he is to some extent responsible for Miss Guthrie's leaving Cadiz, and that she will return before the end of June, not, however, to resume her former duties. Our readers may not be surprised to detect the odor of orange blossoms upon the spring breezes.

Work Given Out. On receipt of your address we will make an offer by which you can earn $3 to $7 evenings at your home. Men, Women, Boys, or Girls can do it. H. C. WILKINSON & CO., 195 and 197 Fulton Street New York.

To The Public.

I deem it my duty to state that Ellen Connor the woman sent to the small-pox hospital from Mr. Dave Tandy's, has only a bad case of vaccination produced by virus such as all the physicians here have been using this season. The early symptoms in her case were identical with those of some time seen in varioloid and as it was reported from several sources that she had been exposed to small-pox it was considered prudent by the proper authorities to have her removed from Mr. Tandy's until her case had time to develop.

It was unfortunate that she should have been placed near the other cases of small-pox for one hour and contrary to my orders.

It is impossible for her to have communicated any disease to Mr. Tandy's family before her removal.

N. P. White, Captain.

Our good friend Mr. T. G. Hiser of Sinking Rock placed us under many obligations last week and at the same time very agreeably surprised us by sending a club of eight subscribers, accompanied by the cash in gold.

Rev. Jas. Allenworth, pastor of the Cedar Bluff colored church near Elmo, requests us to announce that there will be no more preaching there until further notice, on account of the small-pox which is raging in the vicinity.

Messrs. W. H. Elgin & Bro., of this county, sold four hogheads of Burley tobacco in Louisville last week at $17, $11.50, $10, and $14.70, the last a lug hoghead, making an average of $10.83. The crop yielded 1,100 pounds to the acre. This is a pretty good showing for the much abused Burley.

WINSTON HENRY SEC.

The Republican mass convention yesterday afternoon renominated Senator Pratt and Representative Breathitt, endorsed President Arthur, recommended Maj. S. R. Crumbaugh for the Navy Portfolio and appointed delegates to the Lexington convention May 23rd. Judge J. I. Landus was chairman and Judge T. E. Lawson secretary. The proceedings in full will appear next week.

Remember the South Kentuckian is the cheapest and best paper published in the county, and besides giving the freshest and fullest news for the least money, also gives each subscriber a free ticket in a fair and impartial distribution of 100 prizes worth $700. And bear this in mind we stop all papers when out and force no man to take the paper after his time is out.

Mr. Dan H. Merritt, who has for some years past been with Mr. Robt. Guynn in his grocery has entered into a partnership with him, the style of the firm being Guynn & Merritt. He is a young gentleman well and favorably known in the community and the new firm will merit and command a large share of the public patronage.

Since the first of January our subscription list has been steadily increasing by voluntary cash subscriptions at the rate of over one hundred new ones a month. Some days we have received as high as twenty-five or thirty cash subscribers. Very few of our old subscribers have failed to renew and our net increase since Jan. 1st has been nearly four hundred, and subscriptions are still coming in at an average rate of thirty a week.

We now have on hand a large stock of Standard "Anchor Square" and Satchel Bottom paper bags, of all sizes, which we will sell at city prices. Do not give your orders to foreign dealers, as we will duplicate eastern bills. We handle nothing but the very best goods, and will furnish them at bottom prices, printed or unprinted. All sizes of flour sacks also kept constantly on hand. Give us a call and sustain home dealers.

Hawkins & Co's new barber sign is the most unique and attractive sign in the city. It is an upright box sign with a standing picture on each of the four sides. The pictures were aimed to represent the four barbers connected with the shop, though they are not very striking likenesses. The sign is at the edge of the pavement in front of the shops leading up to the shop. The lettering and painting were executed by Mr. Ed Hendley and Mr. Abe Simmons, of this city. The sign will be surrounded with a huge pair of boots in a few days.

IN THE COUNTY.

The cases in the county have all been collected in three places and are

"BOROLINE."

Battle About a Bad Bill.

On last Tuesday morning a bloody encounter took place between Kee R. McKee, business manager of the South Kentuckian, and Prof. Henry G. O'Neill, a scientific inventor of this city. The circumstances leading to the fight, and the combat as reported by witnesses, were as follows:

On March 30th, during the small-pox scare, Prof. O'Neill came to the office of the South Kentuckian and had some circulars printed advertising "Boroline," an invention of his, as a sure preventive for small-pox. He stated that the bills would be paid for when he got them, and the matter was regarded as a cash transaction. When the work was finished Prof. O'Neill did not call for it himself, but sent a friend who stated that O'Neill had just used all his money ordering drugs and that he would settle the bill the next day. With this understanding he was permitted to take the bills without paying for them. At the time set the account, which was only $2, was not settled by O'Neill. Some days afterwards it was presented to him and he promised to pay the following Saturday. McKee, who presented the account, reported this and on Tuesday morning was instructed to see O'Neill again and tell him that the account must be settled without further promising. McKee found O'Neill in the vacant store being fitted up for J. P. Nolan and again presented the account. O'Neill again promised to pay in the future and McKee told him that his instructions were to collect the bill then, as it was regarded as a cash transaction. O'Neill became highly incensed at this and, as McKee says, told him that he had promised to pay Saturday, but now he would say that he would not ever pay it, and ended by ordering McKee to get out of the vacant store in which they were standing. McKee indignantly refused and O'Neill replied that he would put him out and laid hold of him. McKee shoved him back and O'Neill then dealt him a savage blow on the nose with his fist. McKee then proceeded to draw a dull bar knife, but before he could do so O'Neill struck him again and was following up his blow with another when McKee began to use his knife. He stabbed O'Neill once in the breast, but could not cut through his clothing, so he began to cut him about the face, while O'Neill continued to display scientific pugilism by pounding McKee in the face with his fists. They fought for perhaps a minute when they were finally separated by a step ladder being thrust between them. McKee was found to be badly bruised and beaten about the face, as Prof. O'Neill is said to be a professional boxer and is a man of iron muscle and athletic movements. O'Neill was severely gashed about the face and soon began to grow weak from loss of blood. His nose was split, one eyelid was cut nearly off, the ball narrowly escaping, and his face and head were cut in probably half a dozen places. The cut in his breast was not serious, as it did not go to the lung.

McKee was able to be about in a day or two, though he still retains relics of the fight in the shape of a black eye and the unsettled bill. O'Neill is still confined and probably will be for several days longer and the trial for breach of the peace will not be held until the aggressor is able to appear in court.

Mr. McKee is a young man of quiet, gentlemanly demeanor, universally courteous and polite in every respect, but is courageous and cool in the face of danger and when Prof. O'Neill made his fierce and unexpected assault upon his youthful adversary, the latter proceeded to defend himself and but for his dull pocket-knife O'Neill would quickly have disabled him with his scientific blows.

McKee's action in so gallantly defending himself against an experienced pugilist was universally applauded by the citizens of Hopkinsville, old and young. He is one of the most popular young gentlemen in the city and his friends crowded around him by the score to congratulate him upon so fearlessly and successfully defending himself against his more powerful combatant with so inferior a weapon.

THE SMALLPOX.

The smallpox has disappeared entirely from the city and there is now only one case in the hospital. Nellie Joiner, the 12th case reported, which was the only one reported last week, proved to have a very mild case of varioloid and was in bed only a few days. On last Thursday Sylvia Campbell, an old negro woman living on Jackson street was found to have smallpox. It is not known how she contracted the disease, though it is said she caught it from washing infected clothing. She was taken to the hospital and will probably die. She is the 13th case in the city and hers is now the only one in the vicinity of the city.

Last Saturday an Irish girl employed as cook at Mr. D. A. Tandy's became sick from vaccination and as there was some difference of opinion about her case she was taken to the hospital in order to be on the safe side. It has since been decided by the physicians that she has neither small-pox nor varioloid, but her sickness was caused by vaccination. She is now getting well rapidly.

This is the full and we hope the final report of the disease and all excitement is gone.

IN THE COUNTY.

The cases in the county have all been collected in three places and are being cared for by the county authorities. One case of varioloid is near the poor house, all of the others reported there having been discharged as cured. The cases in the Hopkinsville magisterial district are under the care of Dr. Andrew Seargent of this city, who has been appointed to attend to them for the county.

In the Pembroke district the cases have all been collected together at a pest house established on Mr. W. T. Radford's place and there are now ten cases there in charge of Dr. Laekey.

In the Longview district the pest house is located at Mr. Horace Buckner's and there are now six cases there. This is the extent of the disease in the county at this writing—eighteen cases of smallpox and varioloid in the county only one of which is in the hospital in the suburbs of the city.

THE DEATHS.

There have been in all 13 cases in the city and 7 deaths, all colored but one.

There have been 2 deaths in the Longview and 2 in the Pembroke district, all colored. This makes a total of 11 deaths out of about 40 cases since March 1st. None of the cases now being treated are expected to result fatally.

We may therefore conclude that the disease has done about all the harm it will do in this county. Our merchants have suffered severely, and we are truly glad to see business once more begin to grow brisk.

Use Haultzhouse's pills in connection with his cough syrup, as it is necessary to use. It is a purgative, and you will use no other after trying it. Use in coughs, colds, etc. Louis Salmon, wholesale agent Earlington, Ky.

DIED.

ELLIOTT: At her residence in this city on Thursday April 12, 1883, of pleurisy, Mrs. Martha Victoria Elliott, in the 44th year of her age. She was sick for several days and fully realized that her sufferings would end in death. She died as she had lived a pious, exemplary, christian for whom death had no terrors. She talked freely of her approaching dissolution and yielded her soul to its Maker without a murmur of complaint.

She leaves three grown sons and one daughter just budding into womanhood and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Elliott was the consort of the late W. C. Elliott and a daughter of the late J. H. Lander, both of whom died last year. Five sisters and one brother, of her father's family, survive her. Her funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Friday morning and the remains were interred in the city cemetery.

A friend pays her the following tribute: The deceased was well known and well loved in this community. She was faithful as a wife, true as a mother and consistent as a christian. What greater need of praise! Modest and retiring in her nature, she possessed very many of the virtues that exalt and render womanhood lovely. She bore no malice and it can truly be said of her, "that she spoke no ill of any, and none spoke ill of her."

As the delicate fragrance of a flower permeates the surrounding atmosphere, of which we are scarcely conscious, so the deceased exerted a silent influence over many who hardly acknowledge so much to themselves. Warm in her friendships and quiet in her charities, her many kindly actions will be long remembered by those associated with her. She leaves to her children an example of a pure-minded and noble woman, more to be prized than worldly inheritance.

P. ROBERTS: At the residence of Mr. J. W. McGehee, Bellevue, Ky., Wednesday April 11, 1883 J. Wallace Roberts, aged 21 years 1 month and 29 days.

The deceased was the oldest son of Thomas D. and Susan E. Roberts and was a young man of exemplary character and moral habits, and enjoyed the esteem of all with whom he was associated. He had for several months been slowly declining from that dread affliction—consumption. He was sick at the time his father's house was burned about two weeks ago and caught additional cold before he could be taken to another house. Since then he continued to sink rapidly until death ended his suffering. He was buried at the family burying ground in the neighborhood of Bellevue. Only one of three sons now remains to comfort his stricken parents, upon whom the hand of misfortune has so heavily fallen. May they be sustained in their bereavement by a Power from on high.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a called meeting of Forest Lodge, No. 303 of F. & A. M., held at the late residence of the deceased April 6th, 1883, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst, our beloved brother, S. C. Young just when according to human judgment he had arrived at the age of greatest usefulness as a man and a Mason, therefore be it Resolved, That in the death of Bro. Young this lodge and the community has lost one whose place cannot be easily refilled.

Resolved, That we wear these usual badges of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of the resolutions be sent to the Kentucky New Era and South Kentuckian for publication.
